FIREMEN BREAK IN ON WEDDING PARTY

Driver John William Hope of the Central fire department tried to outwit his comrades today but he reckoned not on the cleverness of his fellow firemen. Consequently, when he and Miss Myrtle Doney attempted to become one with the assistance of Judge J. A. Howell, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Luella Doney, 239 Twenty-seventh street, at noon today, without the knowledge of the wedding becoming known to the boys of the department, the newlyweds received a surprise.

Just as the judge had begun his ritual, the bridegroom heard the piercing siren of the auto truck and the clang of the gongs on the wagons. He hesitated. Did his duty lie with the brave boys who were dashing to the fire or should he remain and permit the ceremony to go on? After debating the question for seconds that seemed hours, his relief came when the entire apparatus pulled up in front of the house and his friends entered to attend the ceremony, wearing their helmets and waterproof coats.

When the ceremony was completed, the entire wedding party gathered in front of the house and, with the apparatus for a back ground, a photographer took several "shots" at the party.

CHEAP TRIP BY LOGAN'S NEW FIRE AUTO

Chief A. B. Cantfield and wife, and Fireman Ed Ferguson returned to Ogden yesterday afternoon from Logan where they witnessed the demonstration of the auto fire pump that was shown in Ogden last Saturday.

It required only $5.50 worth of gasoline and oil to take the big machine to Logan. The railroad company demanded $47.17 to transport the car. There was only one place on the entire trip—the Danish dugway—where the demonstrator in charge of the machine found it necessary to use the low gear.

The chief and party returned in the chief's own car by way of Collinston which was found to be the better road.

Upon the arrival of the fire engine in Logan, the citizens turned out in a body to get a glimpse of their up-to-date equipment. A demonstration was held down town Monday in which the pump threw water over the roof of the highest building when the ordinary hydrant pressure would not throw a stream to the roof of a second-story structure.

On Tuesday a demonstration was held at the Agricultural college at the close of the commencement exercises and the exhibition was witnessed by Governor William Spry, the faculty and board of regents, among whom was Angus Wright of Ogden. The hydrant pressure at the campus was only 23 pounds and the stream from the hydrant carried only 24 feet in the air. The pump increased the pressure to 180 pounds and threw a stream 210 feet over the large barn on the grounds.

CORSET SERVICE

THERE IS NO SERVICE we perform that we are more proud of than the service given in our Corset Section. It is truly noteworthy. Upon it—our service—depends not only our corset reputation, but your figure—style and comfort.

THERE IS NO QUESTION concerning corsets that you may ask us that we shall not attempt to answer simply, promptly and intelligently.

THERE IS NO CORSET made that we shall not aim to give you frank information concerning—if you ask—even though that corset is not in our stock, and what is more, if you prefer that corset to any other corset we have, why of course we shall be glad to get it for you—so complete is our service. However, we honestly believe that we have as representative a line of corsets as is possible for experts in corset knowledge to select.

THERE ARE TWO MAKES of corsets that we are this season particularly emphasizing—they are the REDFERN and WARNER'S RUST-PROOF—two makes wherein is found a model that qualifies in fashionable shaping, and ideal, comfortable fitting for every woman, whatever her style of figure, and furthermore, a model for every woman whether she dresses simply, individually or in the most ultra fashion.

REDFERNS are high class in the sense that they are made of rare, choice fabrics, exquisitely beautiful—more carefully made than if made to order, but costing little more than an ordinary corset—to be exact.

$3.50 UP—WHEREAS THE "CUSTOM-MADE" COSTS $10 UP.

WARNER'S RUST-PROOF—The same fashionable shaping, but made of less fine fabrics, and not so richly trimmed as the Redfern, but guaranteed to shape the figure a la mode, and to wear until you wish to replace it with another Warner's. Tub it, if you please—it will stand it; only take off the supporters, and these because they are rubber.

WARNER'S RUST-PROOF CORSETS are guaranteed—which means they are made to shape fashionably, fit comfortably, and will not rust, break or tear.

PRICES $1.00 TO $8.00.

STOLEN WATCH TRACED TO A PAWNSHOP

James Burke, a lineman, charged with petty larceny, was found guilty this morning by Judge W. H. Reeder and was given a sentence of 75 days or $75.

Burke was arrested last night on complaint of John Green, 246 Twenty-sixth street, who had lost a gold watch from his room on June 1. The detectives who had worked on the case learned that a man answering Burke's description had pawned the watch at a local pawnshop.

Green testified that Burke was rooming with him at the time the watch was taken. Guy Vaughn, a clerk in the pawnshop, identified Burke as the man who had pawned the watch, but Burke denied flatly that he had touched the gold watch in question. Upon being cross examined, he admitted that he had been drunk on the day in question and that he had also taken a baby riding in a buggy on the same day, which he would not have done had he been sober.

The judge held that the evidence of the two witnesses and the detectives was sufficient to convict him.

AUTHORITY OF AN OFFICER REVOKED

A communication to the city board of commissioners from the Weber Club publicity bureau, asking the commissioners to aid in the elimination of "fakirs" in the city, was placed on file without comment, at the board meeting this morning.

The Utah Light & Railway company, having informed the board that Monty Roberts is no longer employed by the company at the gas plant, his authority as a police officer, without pay, was revoked. The company requested the revocation.

In answer to a communication from the city engineer, attached to a bill for $16, alleged to be for permits to dig gas mains in the city, local manager S. T. Whitaker, of the Utah Light & Railway company communicated to the board that in the extension of gas mains, common courtesies should be extended on both sides, and that the company would like to proceed with its work of improvement "without being hampered by technicalities."

The city engineer had written to the company that gas mains had been dug without permits and that the fees had not been paid, insisting that gas main extension must be made according to the provisions of the city ordinances or stop. The board took the matter under advisement.

SEARCHING FOR THE BODY OF A SUICIDE

"Please notify my sister-in-law Mrs. Susie Watson, 263 Twenty-sixth street and she will call for my things. Good bye to all, I am going across the great divide." (Signed)

"FRANK COEN"
The foregoing note was found in the room of Frank Coen at the Creston hotel today after the room had not been occupied overnight and the police are now looking for the body, believing that the man has committed suicide.

Yesterday Coen showed great despondency and remarked to the proprietor of the hotel that he was tired of life and had no faith in women. He went to his room, leaving a few minutes later and has not been seen since. The note was on the table in the room which he occupied for several months and several articles of value were left in the place. Coen is about 25 years old and has been in the city four or five years. During the open days of the city, I conducted a crap game in one of the local gambling halls and since that time had been employed at various positions.

Yesterday was the sixth anniversary of his wedding to the wife who left him recently and is now thought to be in Los Angeles. It is believed that brooding over his marital troubles brought about such a state of despondency that he has killed himself.

The hotel proprietor became suspicious when he found this morning that the room had been unoccupied and, upon investigating, he found the letter upon the table. Beside the letter willing his furnishings to Mr. Watson, was a letter from his parents who live at Holton, Kansas.

Detective George Wardlaw and Sergeant Lane took charge of the case and visited the river bottoms and unfrequented places in search of tracks or the missing man.

Friends of Coen have not seen him since yesterday, nor has the sister-in-law.
